- BOOK (Prencipe Marra Gallimberti)
  - Chapter 5
  - Chapter 6
  - Chapter 8 (excluding exercises 11, 12 and 13)

  Note: even though the topic is addressed in the book with some simplifications, it is strongly recommended to read pages A-22 to A-24 of the Libby textbook.

---

[1] Example: in the exam we can provide for a "dividend revenue" in the text. In the exam we will NOT specify (as it is explained in the exercises) that "the dividends are not to be taxed a second time out of 95% of their amount; hence, just 5% of the dividend revenue is taxed" You must remember it.
Instead, in case we submit you a "brand new" (= different from the ones presented in the exercises) non-deductible cost or non-taxable revenue, we will clarify in the text of the exam whether it is a "non – taxable" or "non – deductible" amount, and on the basis of which percentage.
